CHANGES IN REQUIREMENTS FOR INTRODUCTION TO INTELLIGENCE COURSE

Students attending the next Introduction to Intelligence course (26 January through 6 February 1970) will need certain special clearances. To facilitate the processing of clearances, Training Officers should forward the date and place of birth and the social security number of applicants with the Form 73 (Request for Internal Training) at least ten days prior to the start of the course. For this session, Form 73's should be submitted to OTR/ISS/AIR, Room 832, 1000 North Glebe Road by 9 January 1970.

Students who have worked in the Agency for no longer than two years will be accepted for the January 1970 running of Introduction to Intelligence. Eventually, the course will be restricted to employees with less than 1 1/2 years of Agency service.

Four courses (Introduction to Intelligence, Orientation to Intelligence for CT's, Introduction to Communism, and The Communist Target: A Survey) will eventually be merged into a single course. The Office of Training plans a gradual evolution, within a year, to this new orientation and familiarization course which will include a broad outlook on world affairs and a new appraisal of communism. The course will define the Agency's role as a member of the Intelligence Community and will outline the Community's combined activities in the intelligence cycle. [REDACTED] will be amended to reflect this change. In the meantime, for additional information on course content, call [REDACTED] extension [REDACTED] for information on registration, call extension [REDACTED]
